

COVERD

GREATER CINCINNATI

Megan Fischer, CEO + Founder

How We Got Started Ending Diaper Need and Period Poverty

- Idea started in 2014 with diaper need
- No local entity directly serving this need
- Started distributing diapers in 2016 and period supplies in 2018 to combat diaper need and period poverty

Sweet Cheeks Diaper Bank

- Launched in 2015 and is part of the National Diaper Bank Network
- Distributes free diapers to low-income families while raising awareness of the basic health need for diapers
- Diapers distributed through 52 local social service agencies
- Distributes around 200,000 clean diapers each month
- Serves around 4,000 children each month
- Has supplied over 5.5 million clean diapers since its start

Tidal Babe Period Bank

- Launched in 2018 as part of the Alliance for Period Supplies
- Distributes free period supplies (tampons, pads, reusable menstrual cups, and liners) to local low-income menstruators
- Period kits distributed through 44 local social service agencies and 7 local schools
- Distributes around 1,100 period kits each month
- Has supplied over half a million period products

Period Poverty Awareness Week!

THIS IS NOT A PERIOD PRODUCT

But 1 in 3 low income women have used an item like this as period products due to lack of income

Fly and Dry Basic Needs Bank

- Brand new program; pilot phase ended May 2021
- Supplies free urinary incontinence supplies to senior and other individuals to restore basic human dignity
- Supplied 50 clients with supplies each month for 12 months
- Distributed over 10,000 products over the course of the pilot

Thank you!

Questions?

Contact:

Megan Fischer

megan@sweetcheeksdiaperbank.org

